Increase of Legal Rate of Interest. To the Editor of the Evening Telegraph:-

PHILADELPHIA, April 8, 1806 If the increase of interest on loans be authorized by law, and it has the effect of attracting capital to the State, is there any danger of it producing a reaundance, and thereby a reckless state of speculation with those who may have the facilities to get money?-which facilities will be required to be of the right kind, and amply secure. Well, with such facilities the amount of money needed can be obrained at the present time, and at almost any other time. We knew there is danger attending a sudden increase of capital beyond the requirements of the present established trade, which is now successfully going on within the bounds of necessity, and under the trained experience of those engaged in its vari. ous departments. We have had sad ex-perience of the effect of sudden increase of capital, and particularly in the case of the charter of the United States Bank by Pennsylvania. which, by suddenly drawing the greater bulk of its capital to this State, made many bad investments, and in a low years the greater part of its means was lost to the stockholders, and the money that was to establish the prosperity of the State became worthless, and the glorious prospects we exulted in came as a pestilential cloud, and involved nearly all the other banks, together with the community at large, in the same ruin. As for the necessity of replenishing a deficiency of capital, the United States Gov erument made that all right in the issue of the various forms of money it has resorted to to meet its own necessities and to relieve the people from the evi effects of being trammelled by an irregular banking system, under suspension of specie payments, brought about by the withdrawal of millions of specie by our toreign cousins, whose agents here are always feathering, and when any cause of a arm is sprung they can gather up our specie and carry it away; but this Government money is different from other paper money, and though there has been an infiation of prices preceding and attending it, at home it is of the same value as when first issued, and will be of the same value with gold when the desires of our people are restrained to their wants. Then excess of importations will be curtailed and bring the exchange in our favor, and [not before, the prices of goods will settle to their former values. Then, if the same quantity of paper money exists as now, together with the accession of gold and silver which will follow, we will be likely to have more money on hand than will be needed. H. A. W.

Who Sympathizes with President Johnson in England. PHILADELPHIA, April 3, 1866.

To the Edstor of The Evening Telegraph:-The London 'regular correspondent" of the Boston Advertiser is an English Laceral. Inasmuch as the National Intelligencer has been quoting the London Times, by way of informing us how highly the veto is thought of "in England," can your space for such extracts be better occupied than by the following paragraph from his last letter, in the Advertiser of the 24th uit,? (The italics are mine.)

"I venture no deductions, but state a simple fact "I venture no deductions, but state a simple fact when I remark that President Johnson's veto of the Freedmen's Bureau bill and his conservative policy generally are approved of with special tervor by the politicians and newspapers here who were prominent in their advocacy or the Southern Rebellion. Mr. Roebiek, who, in my hearing, a few nights since, offered a solemn hope in the House of Commons that the United States would never become a united people, is pleased with Mr. Johnson; and all the members of Parliament who cheered when a list was read of the saips destroyed by the Confederate privateers, are now to be found cheering with equal unanimity at the mention of President Johnson's privateers, are now to be found cheering with equal unanimity at the mention of President Johnson's name. He has been taken to the bosom of English aristocracy. They regard him as a converted sont. When his inauguration took place they feared an impetus would be given to democracy by the accession to wonderful influence of a man who appeared the incarnation of the popular principle; but this apprehension gradually died away, and has been this apprehension gradually died away, and has been succeeded by an affection which cannot be called disinterested, but which, from its very selfishness, is sincere. In the same proportion have the hopes of the masses who sympathized with the North dwindled low, and every day I am asked with an anxious voice by sone warm friend of America, whether I think Mr. Johnson will desert the cause of whether I think Mr. Johnson will desert the cause of the manapation? I do not like to be found in the company of the men who applaud Jefferson Davis and Captain Sommes; but as yet, I have always replied: 'I can afford to wait and see'. At all events, we in Europe may safely irust American citizens with the case of their own honor, which is so intimately conserved.'

INSTALLATION OF TEMPERANCE OFFI-CERS.—A large assemblage of persons gathered in the hall of the Hierophant Division, No. 21, S. of T., on Monday evening, to witness the public installation of the different officers and enjoy other agreeable exercises. Singing was the first thing in order, followed by an im-pressive prayer; after which the installation services were gone through with. J. B. Bry son, Esq., one of the most active and useful members of the Division, was installed Worthy Patriarch. At the conclusion of those impressive services, the Worthy Patriarch was called upon for a speech. He complied with the request in the following words:— Brethren:-It is with unbounded feelings of gratitude that I take my position as Worthy Patriarch of this time-honored division to-night. Gratitude of this time-honored division to-night. Gratitude for the high mark of your layor and confidence. Gratitude for the privilege of conducting the business and deliberations of such a glorious body of men, with such a glorious temperance record. But, most of all, I am grateful for finding myself a total abstinence man. Perhaps few men can find greater cause for thankfulness upon this score than myself. And, when I reflect upon the influences which have placed me here to-night, I cannot refrain from bearing testimony to the great advantages according to ing restimony to the great advantages accoung to our order by the admission of lady visitors to our meetings, for to one of those do I owe my con-nection with the order, and the great pleasure I have enjoyed at all its meetings since I have been a

Ladies, you have influence! Influence that can reclaim men from the slippery paths of intemperance, and win them to the true delights of "love, unity, and fidelity." Oh, fail not to use it! As to the duties of my office, I can but promise you my best efforts, relying upon you of greater experience for forbearance and counsel. I am sure I do not appeal in vair. appeal in vain.

The speaker's remarks elicited much attention, and were received with long-continued marks of approbation. The audience was then entertained for a few minutes by some very excellent singing by a young lady friend of the division. An eloquent address was then de-livered by B. Grant Barnwell, Esq., which con-cluded the interesting and agreeable exercises of the evening.

THE FENIAN BROTHERHOOD,-Pursuant to an invitation issued by Mr. Wynne, District Centre of Philadelphia, a meeting of all the Fenian Circles in this District was held last evening at the Hall, Twelith and Chesnut streets. Mr. Wynne presided, and Mr. Stephen J. Meaney, District Centre of Onio, delivered a forcible address on the necessity of immediate action. The contents of a secret circular, just received, were disclosed amidst enthusiastic cheers. Notwith standing the very liberal subscriptions of the Philadelphia Fenians to the bonds already, a considerable amount of money was received, and many of those who had hitherto adhered to General Sweeney declared their intention to aid, in every possible manner, Stephens and O'Mahony in their attempt to plant the flag of republicanism on Irish soil. The meeting separated by giving cheers for Stephens, O'Mahony, Mr. Meaney, and the District Centre, Mr.

INTENDED INFANTICIDE,-Last evening, a lady passing along Carlton street, above Tenth found a colored infant lying on the sidewalk, with a cloth bound tightly over its mouth, for the evident purpose of suffocating it. The child was at once placed in the care of a colored woman living in the neighborhood.

POLITICAL INDIGNATION.—The members of the Republican party of Camden city and councy exhibit unusual dissatisfaction at the course pursued by James M. Scovel in refusing to go into joint meeting for the election of a United States Senator. They regard his conduct as an emphatic abandonment of the party that ceted him to the Legislature, and favored him with other marks of esteem and appreciation. In fact, all the political status Mr. Scovel has had since he left the Democratic ranks has been given to him by the Republicans; and they feet incensed that just as the Union party had gained position whereby New Jersey can justly claim a voice in Congress for the cause of freedom, that claim must be thwarted by the very man whom the Unionists have showered so many blessings upon. They unanimously agree that Mr. Scovel has no right to allow his personal animosities or preferences to interfere with the action of the Senate, simply because he holds the balance of power, in going into a joint meeting; nor has he the right to dictate who shall be the nominee of the party. It is Mr. Scovel's duty to go into joint meeting, for that is an important Constitutional requirement—then he can vote as he pleases. The course he has thus far pursued in the matter, viewed in all its aspects, is more unfortunate to himself than it will be to the party he has betrayed. Leading Republicans say they can never receive him into their confidence again.

INTERESTING EXERCISES-REMOVAL OF SOLDIERS' HOME .- Yesterday the Soldiers' Home in Race street, near Fourth, was re-moved from its old quarters to the corner of Fifteenth and Filbert streets.

During the war a large number of sick and wounded soldiers found shelter beneath the roof of the old building, and scenes of days happily spent there will be cherished long in the memories of those whose privilege it was to receive aid and comfort from the hands of careful pursus delegated to look after the of careful nurses delegated to look after the wants of the inmates.

At the closing ceremonies on Monday evening the old building was filled with the friends of the Home, who assembled there to bid adieu to the spot where for so long a period they had been permitted to impart their liberality to the brave boys who had bled for their country. Mr. E. L. Holcomb had charge of the evening's enertainment, which consisted of singing, short addresses, and other pleasing performances by different gentlemen. Many of the inmates of the Home had but one arm and leg, and their appearance drew forth the sympathies of all present as they joined in the festivities of the evening. The new building, it is said, will accommodate a large number of patients.

BADLY BURNED .- A young lady named Annie Russell, eighteen years old, who resides at No. 1326 Brown street, was burned in a terrible manner yesterday, by her clothes taking fire from the kitchen range. In her tright she ran into the street, her clothes being in a blaze. Before the flames could be extinguished the whole surface of the body was so much burned and charred that but slight hopes are entertained of her recovery. Her brother, while attempting to put the fire out, was also badly burned.

FAIR OF THE DEAF MUTES' ASSOCIATION. This evening, the Fair of the Deaf Mutes' Association will open at the Horticultural Hall, Broad and Walnut streets. The design is to obtain funds from the sale of curious and valuable articles to procure a library adapted to the inerests and tastes of those united by their common mistortune. The Fair will continue for one week, and well merits the patronage of the curious and the liberal minded.

SLIGHT FIRE.—The alarm of fire between four and five o'clock yesterday afternoon was caused by the burning of a bedstead and bed-ding at the dwelling No. 110 Catharine street. The fire originated from that truitful source of mischief, little children playing with matches, but, fortunately, very slight damage resulted.

SUDDEN DEATH .- David Miller, about 50 years of age, fell dead about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, in the yard of a house at Levering's court, Manayunk. Coroner Taylor held an aquest on his remains.

THE HESTONVILLE RAILBOAD.-A hearing took place yesterday afternoon in the case of the Hestonville Railroad. District Attorney Mann represented the Commonwealth. The following evidence was given by Mr. Theodore

F. Graham:—

I am a shareholder in the Hestonville Passenger Rallway Company: I hold 100 shares; was invited to make a "corner" in the stock; Mr. Joseph F. Young invited me to come to a meeting in his office; those meeting there were brokers—George A. Boyd, John S. Capp, George F. Work, Samuel Work, and others whom I do not recollect; I told them that I controlled 1200 shares of the stock; they proposed that f should tie up my stock, or agree not to sell it for a certain length of time; Mr. Young and George Work proposed it; I decimed; Mr. Capp aid also; Mr. Boyd gave no positive answer; Samuel Work said they controlled $7,000 shares; Mr. Young said the same thing; there were only 41,000 in the company; Mr. McKillips was named as one of the proprietors of the stock outside, and Mr. Boyd and Mr. Capp also controlled some or the stock. These were not counted in the $7,000 shares; they counted soveral hundred shares of floating stock after this meeting; I was afterwards approached to tie many stock. this meeting; I was afterwards approached to the apmy stock, but I always declined; I afterwards sold to Messrs. Work, McCouch & Co. 1000 shares; Samuel Work bought the stock at sales at the board; I have Work bought the stock at sales at the board: I have seen the sales recorded, but cannot remember who bought; for our stock we received 40, buyer 30 days, for 500 shares, and 40, buyer 60 days, for 500 shares; they said at the meeting that the object of tying up the stock was to make parties who were "short" in the stock pay for it; when a party sells stock and promises to deliver at a certain time, and then cannot get the stock, but must purchase it from any one who has it tied up, he is said to be "short;" Mr. E. T. Shaw was said to be "short;" Mr. E. T. Shaw was said to be "short;" in this stock; we inought we could make more money by selling our stock than by tying it up; there were no details given at the meeting of the manner in which the corner was made up; they simply said that something nice could be made; they simply said that something nice could be made; they did not use the phrase, "put m a pool;" as I understand, it is a sum of money used for the purpose of buying up stock; our stock, over the 1000 shares sold, we still hold, and we have more belonging to our customers, purchased since the sale to Work, McCouch & Co.; at the meeting the plan proposed was to get all the men in the room to go in and the up their stock, and then buy more; I asked Ashburst what he thought of Hestonville; he said he thought it was going up.

Cross-examined—This meeting was in January,
Mr. Young asked me the second time to tre up my stock; the 1000 shares were sold net 15; that bought for customers was for outside parties; 100 I bought from George J. Boyd: 200 I bought from Mr. Warthman; I paid 46½ and 46½ for it; I bought it March 30, and delivered it; all the parties said Shaw was "thort;" this was at the meeting: Shaw sold at seller's option, which led to the supposition that he was "short;" he was "bearing" the stock; I have beard Mr. Shaw never conversed about the subject event. Mr. Shaw never conversed about the subject except in a general way, saying the stock was not worth

At the conclusion of the testimony the examination was adjourned until next Tues ay afternoon, at the room of the Board of what it sold for.

A FARMER SWINDLED .- A farmer who visited the city yesterday from the State of Dela ware, while passing along Market street, was met by a man who asked him if he could tell bim where to find the store of a shoc dealer whom he named. The countryman replied that he was a stranger in the city, and that he did not know. The ground having been thus broken for a chat, the man made himself quite agree-able to the farmer, and walked with him down Market street and down Third as far as the office of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Upon reaching it a third person came out of the doorway, and approaching them, said to the person with the tarmer, "I've just shipped your goods, and everything is right;" at the same time he presented a bill. "I'm not quite certain that I have enough to settle it, though I have a check bere on the Girard Bank for more than that amount. Perhaps my triend here" (referring to the farmer) "can make up the difference." farmer was asked how much he had, and said he had ninety dollars. That sum was required to make up the amount of the bill, and it was handed over. "Come up with me into the office," said one sharper to the other, "and I'll give you a receipt." The two went up stairs, leaving the farmer below. He waited some time, and then walked up to see what had be-come of them, and was told that they had gone out the back way. He then discovered that he had been swindled.

DISHONEST EMPLOYES,-Yesterday morning a hearing took place before Alderman Thomas, in the case of two colored persons, named Abraham and Florence Alexander, who were charged with robbing their employer, John Weldon, of Newark, New Jersey, of two thou-sand and fifty dollars, in seven-thirty interest notes, and three hundred and fifty dollars in compound interest notes of fifty dollars each Suspicion rested on the woman in question, who had been working in the family of Mr. Weldon for some time. It appears that she and her hus-band left about the time of the robbery for this city, and were traced by the officers to German town. On Monday evening warrants were issued by the Alderman for their arrest, and placed in the hands of Officers Campion and Hunting don, who soon after ascertained the whereabouts of the accused, and took them in charge. On examining the premises where they resided, over $2000 was found under a carpet, and in an old woodshed among some rags, by Lieutenant Duncan, who joined in the search. After a hearing the accused were held to answer, and in default of bail were committed to prison.

MEETING IN BEHALF OF THE CHRISTIAN Union.—Last evening a meeting was held in Rev. Dr. Beadle's church, Seventh street, below Arch, in behalf of the Christian Union. During the evening several addresses favoring the move ment were made by different clergymen, among whom was the Rev. Dr. Vermilye, whose re-marks were extended to considerable length, and were listened to by his hearers with great atten tion. This society originated in New York city three years ago. It was born in obscurity, and has risen slowly but steadily to notice, until it has begun to attract very general attention both in this country and in Europe. It aims at some visible manifestation or organization of evan-gelical Christendom. Its work for three years past has been chiefly tentative, having done lit tle more than made a reconnoissance of the position it aims to carry. Extremists of every sect are allowed free expression in its meeting; nor does it undertake to decide which is right, believing that agitation is the great remedy for

ANOTHER OIL CASE .- A decision was rendered yesterday afternoon by the Recorder in the Monongalia Otl case of West Virgima. Messrs. William C. Stevenson, Lambert R. Walker, Marcus A. Davis, and William Farson charged with conspiring to cheat and defraud certain parties, were required to enter bail in the sum of $2000 each to answer at the present term of the Court of Quarter Sessions. Counsel for the prosecution contended from the evi dence elicited at the hearings that the parties should be bound over to answer the charges of conspiracy, and obtaining money under pretenses. Counsel for defense objected. matter will be fully argued on Thursday morning, when the Recorder will decide the WEAVER VS. GIVEN .- A further hearing took place yesterday morning at the office of General Collis, in the Weaver and Given City Commissioner contested election case.

A number of witnesses were examined, after which the case was continued.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY. - Patrick Schooler, living at No. 521 North Pront street, was held in $690 ball by Alderman Toland, charged with stealing forty dollars from a companion.

MATTERS OVER THE RIVER.

THE NEW JERSEY CONFERENCE.-The territory embraced within the limits of the New Jersey Conference, which has just closed its thirtieth session in Camden, is that part of the State lying south of a line extending from Lam-bertsville, on the Delaware river, to New Brunswick, on the Raritan river, thence to the ocean wice, on the hardest river, ingice to the ocean by said river and the bay into which it empties, including the two cities named. The Newark Conference covers the balance of the State, together with a small portion of Pennsylvania and New York, including Staten Island. This whole territory was formerly connected with the Philadelphia Conference, from which it was according to the the inversal Conference in 1838. set off by the General Conference in 1836. The New Jersey Conference held its first session the next year. In twenty years it became too large. and another division was provided for by the General Conference of 1856.

The whole body met as one Conference in 1857, when the relation of its members was determined by the position of the appointment then received with reference to the division line; that is, those above the line became members of the Newark Conference, and those below it of the New Jersey Conference. At the close of the first year the reports show a ministerial force of one hundred, exclusive of the supernumeraries and a membership of 20,457, not counting probationers. Last year's reports give 122 ministers and 22,703 members. But while the numerical increase has not been large, there is a gratifying advance in contributions for benevolent pur

In 1858 the collections for Missions, the Bible, Tract, Sunday School, Education, and Disabled Ministers, foot up something over $10,600. In 1865, nearly $25,500 were raised for the same purposes. In 1868 the receipts for ministerial support were not reported, but the next year the aggregate, exclusive of house rent, was $48,921.65. In 1865 it was $82,507. ries averaged $660, including sixteen single men and some who received but partial support; the range was from $100 to $1500. According to the statistics presented at the recent session, the New Jersey Conference is in a commendably flourishing condition, and the labors of the ministers appear to be attended with satisfactory

THE DIRTY STREETS .- The different Committees on Streets are rather derelict in the work of urging the contractors forward in the work of cleaning them. They are inviting proposals for that purpose, but what good will that do if the contractors will not do the work? The near approach of sultry weather, and with it, in all probability, the much leared plague, the choicra, ought to be sufficient to induce the Committee to see that the streets and all nithy alleys are cleated at once, and kept so every day. If one set of contractors will not attend to their duties in this respect give the work to others who will. The sanitary condition of the city demands this, and the Council should delay no longer in enforcing the ordinance concerning it. There are many places that need a full and thorough pur-

PAYING WARRANTS.—The City. Treasurer paid yesterday a large number of warrants to the school teachers of this city. By four o'clock in the afternoon the sum of nearly $100,000 had been disbursed, and all in the small sums due to individual teachers for services in the public schools, and to other salaried officers.

-The remains of Mrs. Bishop, a woman of ill fame, says the Bristol (Tenn.) Gazette, were found in a cave near that place, a few days ago, where she had been murdered some two weeks ago, having been stabbed five times and thrown into this cave. An inquest was held over the body, but no facts elicited as to who committed -A smart colored man hailing from the South lately swindled two Providence negroes out of $800, in a way which shows that the black race s susceptible to the influences of civilization. He sold them a big box of stones, telling them it was lewelry, and they believed that they had made their fortunes until they opened the box.

-A warning is conveyed in the following paragraph, which we clip from a foreign journal:—"Green robes, it appears, are now very much the fashion on the continent. Professor Maschaka and Dr. Lerck, of Prague, have analyzed a green dress, and discovered in the thirtysix metres of which it was composed no less than two ounces of arsenic."

PHILADELPHIA, September 9, 1838,
We have carefully tested the sample of CHESNUT
GROVE WHISKY which you send us, and find that it contains NONE OF THE POISONOUS SUBSTANCE known as FUSIL OIL, which is the characteristic and injurious ingredient of the whiskies in content has gredient of the whiskies in general use.

BOOTH, GARBETT & CAMAC,

Analytical Chemists

NEW YORK, September 3, 1858.

I have analyzed a sample of CHESNUT CHOVE WHISKY received from Mr. Charles Wharton, Jr., of Philadelphia: and having carrellly tested it, I am pleased to state that it is entirely free Flow Polsonous on deleterators substances. It is an unusually pure and fine-flavored quality of whisky.

JAMES B. CHILTON, M. D.,

Analytical Chemist.

Boston, March 7, 1859. I have made a chemical analysis of commercial sam-ples of CHESNUT GROVE WHISKY, which proves to be free from the heavy Fusi Obs. and perfectly pure and unadulterated. The fine flavor of this whisky is derived from the grain used in manufacturing it.

Respectfully, A. A. HAYES, M. D.,

State Assayer, No. 16 Boyiston street.
